What are YOU doing for peace day?

Join Jeremy Gilley & Jude Law (albeit not in person) alongside CPACS staff and students for a screening of the compelling film...

“PEACE ONE DAY”

Tuesday 21 September 2010, 10:30am-12:00pm.
Room 107, Mackie Building

Peace One Day is the story of one man trying to get the global community to establish the first ever annual peace day – a day of global ceasefire and non-violence, a day for everyone to get involved in the peace process. For five years filmmaker Jeremy Gilley met with heads of states, freedom fighters, innocent victims, media representatives, aid agencies, and Noble Peace Laureates, in a quest for peace for just one day.

“A truly inspirational film that reminds us there are good people in the world.” IMDB.

“Sure everyone wants world peace. Who doesn't? Often times I've asked myself ‘What can I do to make a difference? I am merely one man.’ Jeremy makes a believer out of me.” IMDB.

Film preview: http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=pRFLrmQlghA

Further information contact: Centre for Peace and Conflict Studies, University of Sydney, Tel. 02 9351 7686 or email: arts_cpacs@sydney.edu.au